Peter Alexander, well-known 5E2 public figure, recently became the proud owner of a dozen Jewel soft drinks.

This was the result of much strenuous telephone-dialing, undertaken by our editor on Alex's behalf. The drinks were awarded as one of the many wierd and wonderful prizes in the famous 2CA "Telequiz" programme.

Only seconds before the quiz question was due to be asked, Karlos was quickly flipping through the telephone directory, in a desperate bid to find out Alex's exact address. He knew that it was either No 4, 14, or 24, but a mistake would mean winning a prize for a total stranger? and that would be an utter waste of time.

However, he found it in time, and hastily prepared himself, with pencil and paper, for the really tough question; "How does one spell Wilkins Servis" Being a regular watcher of all the TV ads, Chilblaine was able to answer at once, and he did so, before the other contestants had even finished dialing the number.

Alex is expected to receive his drinks early this week. (CPC) NEWS.
